Goal Statement

- Effective and efficient mission achievement and improved service to America through enhanced alignment and strategic management of the Federal workforce.

Guiding Principles

- Modernizing the Federal workforce and implementing targeted “people” strategies is a critical component to transforming the Government.
- The mission of the Federal government remains a significant strength, and we must enhance alignment of the workforce to mission to maximize this strength.
- Strategic workforce management will drive transformation by addressing certain root cause workforce issues, to include: strengthening leadership of human capital systems; developing better human resources processes and capabilities; and, enhancing the workforce culture.

“So, tonight, I call on Congress to empower every Cabinet Secretary with the authority to reward good workers and to remove Federal employees who undermine the public trust or fail the American people.”

- President Trump, State of the Union, January 29, 2018

Challenges

- Parts of today's personnel system are a relic of an earlier era that ill-serves Federal managers and employees.
- The Federal personnel system is unduly complex leading to a focus on compliance and transaction management rather than results and customer service.
- Instead of agencies determining the best way to accomplish the mission, they map jobs in a fixed manner with outdated processes and functions.
- Not aligning the workforce to mission requirements means the workforce is not being leveraged to meet emerging needs.
- HR IT systems are antiquated and not interoperable.

Opportunity for transformation:

To achieve a state where Federal agencies and managers can hire the best employees, remove low performing employees, and engage employees at all levels of the organization, the Government must put a framework in place that drives and encourages strategic human capital management.

Goal Strategy

The 21st Century Workforce Cross-Agency Priority Goal includes the following subgoals:

1. Improving employee performance management and engagement,
2. Reskilling and redeploying human capital resources, and
3. Enabling simple and strategic hiring practices.

In addition to the three primary subgoals, Goal Leaders will promote opportunities for continuous learning. This will allow agencies and the human capital community to integrate innovations, research, and results from pilot projects into practice.

The strategies and milestones outlined in this Goal Structure work within the existing administrative and legal framework, to compliment broader policy changes the Administration may seek through legislative or regulatory change.

Goal Strategy

Improve Employee Performance Management & Engagement

Strategies:

- Provide support to managers, equipping them to manage effectively.
- Streamline performance management and dismissal procedures.
- Increase the link between pay and performance, and regularly reward high performers.
- Strengthen organizational management practices and accountability for employee engagement.
- Focus intense employee engagement improvement efforts on the lowest-performing organizations, to reduce mission risk.

Reskill & Redeploy Human Capital Resources

Strategies:

- Identify opportunities for automation, and increase the overall efficiency of the workforce.
- Invest in and develop the workforce based on identification of emerging and mission critical skills.
- Reskill and redeploy employees from lower value work activities to higher value work activities.
- Improve the ability of employees to design career paths in federal service and for agencies to clarify career paths that would be most helpful to fulfill workforce planning needs.

Simple & Strategic Hiring

Strategies:

- Make it easier to recruit top talent, reducing the time it takes to complete the hiring cycle from recruitment to onboarding.
- Improve the ability to differentiate applicants' qualifications, competencies, and experience.
- Develop the capacity and skills of HR professionals to better serve customers.
- Add hiring process automation.
- Improve the applicant experience.
- Eliminate burdensome policies and procedures.

Summary of Progress

Improving Employee Performance Management and Engagement:

- Drafted guidance for agencies on meeting the milestone to help low-performing organizations improve Federal Employee Viewpoint survey (FEVS) scores. Six weeks after the FEVS “all indices/all levels report” is released, each agency will provide OPM with a list of the identified work units by component/bureau. In addition, each agency will provide a brief overview of the approach the agency and each component/bureau will take to reach the 20% improvement within 60 days after the first submission.
- Developed an initial draft of survey questions to gather promising agency policies and procedures to address poor performance.
- During FY18, the Tiger Team of White House Leadership Development Fellows assisted low-performing work units with organizational assessments by:
 - Meeting with agency leaders, first line supervisors and employees to share the results of their 2017 FEVS Employee Engagement scores utilizing the EVS Analysis and Results Tool;
 - Facilitating employee engagement focus group sessions with managers and unit level staff to identify employee engagement successes, challenges and opportunities within their work units; and
 - Developing improved management and accountability processes and structures to help Federal managers use FEVS data including sharing best practices and tools for improving engagement.

Continuous Learning

- Hosted Future of Federal Work: Shaping a Workforce That Embraces Technology, Automation and Artificial Intelligence on July 17, which featured sessions on how to reinvent jobs in the digital era and build a more flexible and agile Federal workforce.
- Planned the third annual OPM Research Summit for December 18.
 - Issued a call to academic researchers, Federal practitioners, and industry partners for research papers related to human capital management for presentation at the summit.

Reskilling and Redeploying Human Capital Resources:

- Designed and preparing to circulate a survey for the Chief Information Officer (CIO), Chief Acquisition Officer (CAO), Chief Learning Officer (CLO) and Chief Human Capital Officer (CHCO) Council agencies to identify and characterize existing or planned agency tools relating to career-pathing. The survey results will be used to develop a path forward to pilot and expand development of advanced technologies to enable a changing and increasingly mobile Federal workforce to shape their careers and meet the predicted agency skills needs of the future.
- Began briefing the CIO, CHCO, CAO, and CLO Councils on the Subgoal Team's initiatives.
- Identified agencies preliminarily interested in exploring reskilling opportunities for certain occupations in their workforce.
- Presented ideas for improving Senior Executive Service (SES) developmental opportunities to the President's Management Council's subcommittee on the SES workforce for their further research and consideration.

Enabling Simple and Strategic Hiring Practices:

- Identified accountable official for Government-wide HR-workforce development.
- Completed examination of Federal demonstration projects and alternative personnel systems best practices, and found that only one past project in the last 30 years was aimed at hiring processes, although many used compensation to improve recruitment and retention.
- Conducted focus groups with Human Resources specialty areas to identify competency-based qualification requirements.
- Met with the President's Management Council and their Chief Human Capital Officers to discuss options for alternate QRB assessment methods for SES.

Featured Highlight:

Health and Human Services (HHS) developed two promising practices as part of the “Moving to a 21st Century Workforce” ReImagine HHS Maximize Talent initiative. These practices were also highlighted on OPM’s UnLockTalent.gov website for Government-wide use.

The first practice, the HHS Public Service Recognition Week (PSRW) Toolkit, was assembled by the Maximize Talent Employee Engagement Workgroup to provide a collection of resources and best practices to raise interest, awareness, and participation in PSRW. The purpose of the toolkit is to assist agencies in creating, expanding, or enhancing employee recognition programs both during PSRW and through the year – and to help increase engagement through acknowledging the important work done by Federal employees around the world.

The second promising practice, the HHS Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey (FEVS) Marketing Toolkit, was based on OPM’s FEVS resources. This toolkit was designed to provide a guide for creating communication themes and marketing ideas to maximize FEVS employee participation. With a focus on awareness, motivation and transparency, the toolkit provides resources to help Agencies’ preparation, facilitation, and follow-up in an effort to create an FEVS culture of “You spoke....we listened...this happened!” Both toolkits provide sample communications, proposed activities, and ready-to-use/customizable templates that can be adapted by other Federal agencies.

Overall Employee Engagement Index

The Employee Engagement Index (EEI) is a measure of an agency's work environment — the conditions that lead to engagement. The index is made up of three subfactors: Leaders Lead, Supervisors, and Intrinsic Work Experience.

Government-Wide Average

Dealing with Poor Performance

"In my work unit, steps are taken to deal with a poor performer who cannot or will not improve."

Government-Wide Average

Note: Items were assessed on a 5-point agreement scale. The percentages above reflect the number of respondents that selected "Agree" or "Strongly Agree" in response to the associated statements divided by the total number of responses received. Also note that the "Dealing with Poor Performance" question also offered a "do not know" response option.

The Change in these graphs is calculated by subtracting the previous year's percentage value from the current year's percentage value.

The data depicted above comes from the Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey.
